Senior Staff Specialist or Staff Specialist (Anaesthetist)

Department of Anaesthetics, Bundaberg Hospital

Life in Bundaberg

Do you want to start your day with a peaceful stroll along the beach, enjoying the fresh ocean air? The Wide Bay is arguably one of the most beautiful regions in Queensland, Australia and is known for its relaxed, family-friendly lifestyle. The Bundaberg and Coral Coast region is located approximately four hours' drive, or a quick 50-minute flight, north of Brisbane and is the gateway to the Southern Great Barrier Reef. With an enviable year-round climate, moderate summer days give way to balmy tropical evenings. This sub-tropical region is where the coastline meets the country creating a unique and ideal family environment. It is the perfect base to explore the wider region, including Lady Musgrave, Lady Elliott and Fraser Islands, and the many hiking trails found in the rural hinterland. Bundaberg serves a population of about 100,000 people and is a vital regional business hub for Queensland, boasting excellent shopping, sporting, cultural and tourism facilities. The region is also home to one of the most important turtle breeding grounds in the world, at Mon Repos. Living in Bundaberg you can enjoy a short, traffic-free commute to work and free parking on and nearby hospital grounds.

About Bundaberg Hospital

Since its establishment on the current historical site in 1914, Bundaberg Hospital has grown into the major medical centre of the Wide Bay Hospital and Health Service, providing high quality care within an environment of continuous improvement. Services currently available at Bundaberg Hospital include intensive care, coronary care, obstetrics, gynaecology, paediatrics, orthopaedic surgery, general surgery, gastroenterology, dental and maxillofacial surgery and 24-hour emergency medicine all supported by a comprehensive Allied Health service.

Bundaberg is recognised as a growth area with an expanding population and a notable $1.2 billion investment for a new hospital build expected to be completed within 5 years, that will bring the Anaesthetics Department capability to full CSCF Level 5.
